

Talking Points

- Connecting our community to all the fantastic resources out there
- Helping people discover new resources
- Eliminating the tedious web search for resources
- A community (village) dedicated to the I/DD population and their families
- Beautiful design that's easy to navigate and understand
- Our vision is to be the best resource site on the planet for the Diversability community
- One-stop-shop for resources
- Written guides built to help individuals new to the resource world
- A culture of continuous improvement
- Connecting people with disabilities to local resources
- The I/DD world is just beginning and so are we. Watch as we add all diversabilities to our tool kit.
- Also intend to develop a template for other communities to utilize, plugging in the unique resources of their villages. As the village grows and becomes more popular, we plan to use our experience to help other communities develop their own villages.
- We combine the resource lists of multiple agencies into one location
